IDENTITY

California University of Pennsylvania, a comprehensive regional institution of higher education and a member of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education, is a diverse, caring and scholarly learning community dedicated to excellence in the liberal arts, science and technology, and professional studies that is devoted to building character and careers, broadly defined. The University is inspired by its core values of integrity, civility, and responsibility and is guided by its bill of rights and responsibilities: We have the right to safety and security, we have the responsibility to ensure the safety and security of others; We have the right to be treated with respect, we have the responsibility to treat others with respect; We have the right to expect the best, we have the responsibility to give our best; We have the right to be treated fairly, we have the responsibility to treat others fairly.

MISSION: BUILDING CHARACTER AND CAREERS

To advance its ultimate mission of building the character and careers of students, the University shall focus its efforts on three goals: student achievement and success, institutional excellence, and community service. These interrelated ends will be facilitated by the following means: high quality faculty, students, programs, and facilities. These means, in turn, will be funded through an energetic program of resource acquisition and stewardship.

VISION

Be recognized as the best comprehensive public university in America.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

- Offer an exceptional, one-of-a-kind character and career-building experience;
- Focus character-building on the University’s three core values and four rights and responsibilities;
- Define career-building broadly to include life-wide (multiple life roles) and life-long (legacy) aspects;
- Recruit and retain a distinguished faculty who challenge and mentor students to attain their fullest potential;
- Recruit and retain a talented, diverse, and highly motivated student body;
- Maintain an administrative staff dedicated to the highest professional standards and service;
- Maintain a learning community known for its academic excellence, intellectual rigor, and civil discourse;
- Instill not just learning but the love of learning;
- Be widely known as a center for thought, inquiry, dialogue, and action in matters of character and leadership;
- Maintain a campus of natural and architectural beauty featuring state-of-the-art facilities and equipment;
- Reflect a special mission in science and technology through programs in science, technology, and applied engineering, as well as through emphasis on technology and information literacy across the curriculum;
- Be widely known for high quality undergraduate and selected masters level graduate programs;
- Foster increasingly higher admissions criteria, academic quality, and scholarly expectations;
- Incorporate continuous improvement into all programs and activities to ensure competitive excellence;
- Prepare students for the world of work or further education from multiple locations through multiple technologies in order to meet the ever changing needs of the Commonwealth and the larger world;
- Sustain a reputation for the University’s academic excellence, its daring and entrepreneurial spirit, and the integrity, success, and loyalty of its graduates;
- Instill a culture of philanthropy among students, faculty, staff, and alumni;
- Create an ever larger community of supporters and an endowment that will perpetuate the work of the University and enable constant innovation and renewal.

LEGACY

Founded in 1852, and now in its second 150 years of service, the University is committed above all to academic excellence and intellectual rigor in the context of personal and institutional integrity, civility, and responsibility.

For the past 39 years, Dr. Deborah Shanley has enjoyed a rewarding career in public education. After graduating from California University in 1974, she was hired as a special education teacher in the Miami-Dade (Fla.) public schools, where in partnership with the Juvenile Justice Department she started the first program for 7th- to 9th-grade students with behavior disorders. In 1982, while completing her doctorate at Columbia University’s Teachers College, she was a resource room teacher at Clara Barton High School in Brooklyn.

Dr. Shanley joined the faculty at Medgar Evers College of the City University of New York (CUNY) in 1985 and achieved full professor rank in 1993. She then served as dean of the School of Liberal Arts and Education until being named dean of the School of Education at CUNY’s Brooklyn College in 1998.

Dr. Shanley developed three television series on WNYE-TV that addressed issues in special education. She also hosted the call-in radio show that followed, answering questions and directing listeners to needed services.

Her scholarly writing has focused on topics including women in leadership roles and educational reform issues. This year she completed a chapter in Teacher Education Policy in the United States: Issues and Tensions in an Era of Evolving Expectations with a colleague from West Virginia; it examines developments in urban and rural communities impacted by No Child Left Behind and other education policies.

Dr. Shanley has taken leadership roles in national collaborative partnerships including the National Network for Education Renewal, the Council for Great City Schools, the Middle College National Consortium, and Teachers for a New Era. She served with the National Parks Second Century Commission, which developed a 21st-century vision for the National Park Service, and was co-chair of the Committee for Senator Schumer, charged with re-imagining Floyd Bennett Field in Brooklyn.

Her international experience includes summer teaching in Cuba, Japan and Thailand, and needs assessment projects in Hanoi, Vietnam and Sierra Leone. In 1998 she was awarded a Humanitarian Award by the CUNY Consortium for the Study of Disabilities and the Medgar Evers College Worker Education program.

As the senior education dean in the CUNY system, Dr. Shanley regularly shares her expertise in policy and practice with both the New York State Regents and the New York State Education Department.
Mark Camillo is recognized internationally as a law enforcement and security professional with exceptional expertise in emergency preparedness operations. He is credited with directing the security operations of some of the most critical infrastructures in the world.

He graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Education from California University of Pennsylvania and a master’s degree in education from the University of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Camillo began his career in law enforcement as a special agent in the U.S. Secret Service, where he completed a distinguished 21-year career. He protected four U.S. Presidents and their family members and ultimately served as head of the White House Security Branch, supervising daily security, emergency preparedness and all-hazards operations at the White House Complex.

Mr. Camillo continued his advancement in the Secret Service with an appointment as deputy assistant director, detailed to the headquarters of the newly created Department of Homeland Security. He continued working in critical assignments until his return to Secret Service headquarters, where he was appointed to serve as the agency’s chief technology officer.

Mr. Camillo held several key positions during his career in major event planning, but the most notable was his role as Olympic coordinator for the 2002 Winter Games in Salt Lake City, Utah. Under his direction, the Secret Service executed its mission to design, plan and implement the federal operational security plan for the Games. The successful execution of this plan was later identified by the White House Office of Homeland Security as an excellent model for future security designs at events of national significance.

Currently, Mr. Camillo is senior vice president for strategic planning at Contemporary Services Corp., a U.S. leader in event security and crowd management.

He is an appointed member of the American Society of Industrial Security’s Global Terrorism/International Crime Council; member of the International Association of Chiefs of Police; and chair of the Board of Trustees for the Academy for Venue Safety & Security conducted annually by the International Association of Venue Managers.

Mr. Camillo also is a senior fellow at the George Mason University Center for Infrastructure Protection, providing subject-matter expertise in security studies and operations.

Appearance of a name in this program is presumptive evidence of graduation, but it must not be regarded as conclusive. The transcript, issued through the University by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, sealed and signed by the proper authorities, is conclusive testimony to the possession of a degree.

You've done it! Your hard work has paid off, and today you officially become a graduate of California University of Pennsylvania. We congratulate you on your achievement and wish you every success as you begin a new chapter in your life.

But this isn't good-bye. Let's not lose touch. Through Cal U for Life, you still have many ways to stay connected with your alma mater. And as a Cal U alumnus, you have lifetime access to the professional services provided by our Career Services Office.

So don't be a stranger. Our door is always open, and we look forward to seeing you often.
Commencement honors are awarded to students in the graduating class who have earned at least 60 credits at California University in a baccalaureate degree program and achieved the required QPA of 3.25 or higher. Credits, grades, and quality points earned as part of a previously completed associate or first degree, unless earned at the University, are not used to calculate commencement honors designations. Final eligibility for, or the level of, graduation honors will be determined following the posting of grades for the final semester at California University of Pennsylvania and will be reflected on the official California University of Pennsylvania transcript.

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME CODE

GOWNS

The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves, with no trimming and is worn closed. The gown for the master's degree has oblong sleeves, open at the wrist, with the rear part of its oblong sleeve square cut and is worn open or closed. The gown for the doctorate degree has bell-shaped sleeves and is faced down the front with velvet and three bars across the sleeves. The facing and crossbars of velvet may be of the color distinctive of the field to which the degree pertains.

For all academic purposes, including trimmings of doctors' gowns, edgings of hoods, and tassels of caps, the colors associated with the different subjects are as follows:

Only a single degree from a single institution should ever be indicated by a single garment.

HOODS

The length of the hood worn for the bachelor's degree is three feet, for the master's degree three and one half feet, and for the doctoral degree four feet. The doctoral degree has side panels. The linings of the hood represent the official color of the college or university conferring the degree. The binding or edging of the hood is two inches, three inches, and five inches for the bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees respectively. The color is distinctive of the degree held by the wearer.

CAPS

The cap or mortarboard has a tassel fastened to the middle of the cap, and wearing over the left side indicates the completion of a degree. The doctoral cap is indicated by a tassel of gold thread.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

Vulcan, the Greek god of fire and metalworking, lifts a hammer high over his head, preparing to strike an anvil which is draped with a triangle inscribed with the words education, research and service. He holds the triangle in place with tongs; his face fierce with determination, he kneels at the forge. Captured forever in the act of creation, this Vulcan is memorialized on the University Mace created by artist Thomas Shimrock of Grantsville, Maryland. His interpretation of the California mascot, cast from six pounds of silver, sits proudly on the top of a 52-inch-high wooden mace that made its debut at the 147th commencement.

Mr. Shimrock was commissioned to design and create the mace, a display cabinet and a carrying case by the Foundation for California University. The display cabinet is a work of art in itself. Crafted from bubinga wood, it holds the mace upright within its circular confines. Three graceful bubinga supports, stretching upward from delicately carved ebony ovals, each topped with a different hand-cast silver finial, cradle the circular cabinet body, made up of two curved glass windows and a curved ebonized anegre wood door set in a bubinga wood frame. The carrying case is made from quarter-cut sycamore lined with velvet.

The University Mace, carried by a senior faculty member in all formal academic processions, is on permanent display in the lobby of the Louis L. Manderino Library.

Dr. William B. Biddington, a professor in the Department of Exercise Science and Sport Studies, will carry the University Mace for our Spring 2013 Commencement.

ALMA MATER

California, alma mater
Now we sing to thee
California, dear forever
In our memory.
With our voices loudly ringing,
Of thy fame we’re ever singing.
California, alma mater;
Hail! All hail to thee.

For the friends and joys you gave us,
We give thanks to thee
All thy knowledge we’ll make worthy
For Posterity.
May thy reign be ever prosperous
And thy name forever glorious.
California, alma mater;
Hail! All hail to thee.
