CALU

Welcome to California University of Pennsylvania, a place where you will grow both academically and personally. In an effort to nurture the whole student, Cal U is committed to its ultimate mission of building the character and careers of students. What does that mean to you? Quite simply, everything.

In the last analysis, what we are communicating far more eloquently than anything we say or do.

DR. STEPHEN R. COVEY
Author, 7 Habits of Highly Effective People

From your first day on campus, you will be asked to think about the word "character." How do you act when no one is looking? How do your values guide you in your decision making? How can the moral character you already possess grow even stronger?

We take our mission of building character and careers very seriously. These are not just words on paper. They are the guideposts we follow in order to offer an exceptional, one-of-a-kind character- and career-building experience.

We offer Dr. Stephen R. Covey's 7 Habits of Highly Effective People training FREE to all students. By arming you with the right tools, you'll be better prepared to succeed in school, in your career and in life.

While we stress character building in each student, we as a university are constantly seeking to grow as a school of character as well. We seek to surround ourselves with faculty who share our passion, and students who seek to attain their highest potential.

Our goal is to build the foundations you need to succeed on every level. As a result, our students not only graduate with a diploma, but a with degree of character as well.

At Cal U, we stress three core values: INTEGRITY, CIVILITY AND RESPONSIBILITY. They are integral to our policies, rules and practices, and the foundation of the University's Bill of Rights and Responsibilities.

Although we have established standards that reflect our core values, we recognize that it is you who will ultimately determine which values will guide and influence the choices you make. For that reason, we encourage moral dialogue among members of the University and moral reflection by every individual within our community. We help facilitate this in a variety of ways, including the general education requirement of at least one values course before graduation.
